

Launch webinar invitation

Launching the AECED Pedagogical Framework and Guides to Practice

- • Date: Wednesday, 4th March 2026
- • Time: 10:30–12:30 CET / 09:30–11:30 UK time (120 minutes)
- This free online event will be hosted by the UK AECED team, in English, with contributions from the wider consortium.

How do AELD and the AECED resources respond to key challenges in education for democracy today?

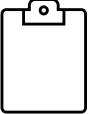

We invite you to the launch of the AECED Pedagogical Framework and Guides to Practice. Discover how aesthetic and embodied learning, responsive pedagogy, and democracy-as-becoming can transform education for democracy.

The AECED Framework and Guides to Practice are grounded in research and designed for practical use across all phases of education and professional and organisational learning.

This launch webinar combines insight, practice, and dialogue with experts and trailblazers, and is aimed at national, regional and local organisations across Europe and parties with an interest in education for democracy.

If this sparks your curiosity, we invite you to explore the project's ideas, key findings and resultant resources, take part in a short experiential aesthetic and embodied activity, and submit your questions for a panel discussion with policy-makers, guide champions and trailblazer users. Book your place and join us in imagining how democracy can be felt, enacted and learned together.

How to register

	Complete this short form to register
	To find out more about the project: www.aeced.org To find out more about the webinar, email: aeced@herts.ac.uk